

June 2017 – Wyatt House

BACK YARD

By Carl Sandburg

Shine on, O moon of summer Shine to the leaves of grass, ca-talpa and oak,

All silver under your rain tonight.

An Italian boy is sending songs to you to-night from an accordion.

A Polish boy is out with his best girl; they marry next month;

To-night they are throwing you kisses.

An old man next door is dreaming over a sheen that sits in a cherry tree in the back yard.

The clocks say I must go—I stay here sitting on the back porch drinking white thoughts you rain down.

Shine on, O moon,
Shake out more and more silver changes.
